2018 Leeds Lieder Young Artists

Our Masterclasses have always been one of the highlights of the annual Festival. Building on this success, in 2018 we are inviting 10 duos, aged 30 years or under, to become Leeds Lieder Young Artists and immerse themselves in the Festival.

There will be opportunities to work closely with either John Mark Ainsley, Malcolm Martineau or Sir Thomas Allen, who will share their experiences of working on the international stage and explore the special ensemble relationship of voice and piano. The Leeds Lieder Young Artists will also take part in a live-streamed concert, with further opportunities to perform in the late night Lieder Lounge, and will receive free tickets to all Festival events featuring artists such as Louise Alder, Carolyn Sampson, Matthew Rose, Robert Holl, Graham Johnson and Julian Prégardien.

We are committed to nurturing young talent and our knowledgeable, generous and discerning audiences value the opportunity to follow the careers of our young artists. For the first time, Leeds Lieder Young Artists may also be invited to take part in future Leeds Lieder Concert Seasons, alongside an already established tradition of Ferrier and Wigmore International Song Competition Prize Winners and BBC Radio 3 New Generation Artists.
